Bear Eliminates 3rd Shift

The elimination of the third shift numbering 118 employees at Bear Archery last week had nothing to do with the economic status that has hit the country recently, according to Robert F. Kelly, Executive Vice-President and Chief Operations Officer.

Kelly stated the firm is "realigning manpower to fit 1975 sales forecasts."

He said that though the recession has not hit the sporting goods industry yet, Bear Archery, is "going in lean and being sure we don't have any more people than we need."

The layoffs affect workers hired in the past three months to fill back orders in 1974, Kelly stated, and with these orders completed, the third shift is not needed, he added.

Bear Archery, the largest industry in Grayling, will have a workforce of 470 following the layoffs. It should be noted that the firm employed 547 on February 1, 1974, Kelly concluded.

Lose To Rayders and Saints

Vikings at Rogers City Friday; Home Tuesday

It has been a rough sea around the Michigan - Huron Shores for the Grayling Vikings this season, and as they head into their last seven ports there appears to be very little calm sailing except for a possible upset along the way.

The Vikings dropped two more league contests last week when they bowed to the Rayders at Charlevoix on Tuesday, 61-54, and then to St. Ignace Saints on their home court Friday, 72-66.

This Friday evening, Grayling will travel to Rogers City for a M-HSC game with the Hurons.

4-H Council Formed in Grayling

By Willard Bosserman, County Extension Director

A 4-H leader council for Crawford County was organized in the county building, Grayling, Thursday night, January 16th.

Ronald Jones 4-H aide arranged for the meeting and had each of the 18 people present introduce themselves.

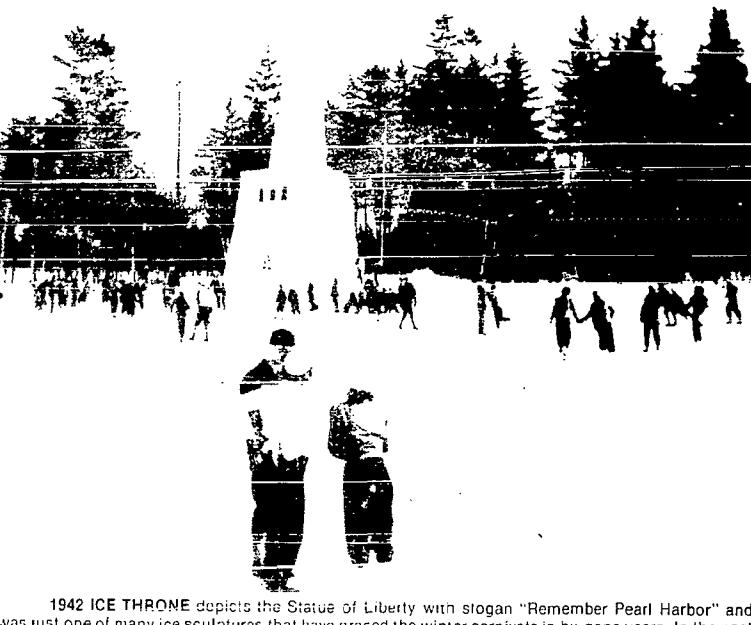

I showed slides of some 4-H activities that are taking place presently in Crawford and Roscommon Counties. I then explained that a leader's council was important in planning for the county-wide 4-H events and promoting the 4-H program. After the group decided to organize, they elected five members to an executive committee. The five then elected officers. Tony Latusek was named president and Alex Donaldson the vice president. Mrs. Darlene Smith was elected secretary and Mrs. Phyllis Hamilton, treasurer. Mrs. Dorothy Boone is the fifth member of the board.

All 4-H leaders automatically become members of the association, but participation is optional.

The meeting ended with a "Walk Through my Garden" which is a slide presentation of wild flowers found in Crawford and Roscommon Counties. Ice cream, cookies and coffee were served after the meeting.

The Roscommon County 4-H leaders organized a council January 7th. They didn't elect officers but appointed a Steering Committee to write by-laws and a constitution.

Grayling To Celebrate 50th Annual Winter Sports Festival Feb. 7-8-9

1942 ICE THRONE depicts the Statue of Liberty with slogan "Remember Pearl Harbor" and was just one of many ice sculptures that have graced the winter carnivals in by gone years. In the past fifty years this one undoubtedly was the most magnificent of all.

On February 7-8-9 Grayling will celebrate its 50th Annual Winter Sports Festival. Even during the World War II days (as the above photo shows), the winter carnival continued.

The snow trains from Detroit, Flint, Saginaw, and Bay City brought the winter visitor in with their skis, skates, and sleighs... and from the old depot at the foot of Michigan Avenue, they were taken or were taken by horse drawn sleighs or open trucks to the Grayling Winter Sports Parks, 1½ miles west of Grayling.

Times have changed and so have the habits of the winter visitor who travels to Grayling. Ice skates and sleighs are seldom seen... downhill skiers still make the runs down Bear Mt. and Skyline Ski Club. Getting off the I-75 and U.S. 27 Expressways are snowmobilers and cross country skiers coming into Grayling and Crawford County with its thousands of acres of public lands which has become the Kensington Park of the northland. With 200 miles of marked snowmobile trails and 8 square miles of cross country skiing area, it is a land of delight for the devotees of these two winter recreational activities geared to family winter fun.

The emphasis on 50 years of winter sports will focus on snowmobiling, cross country skiing, and downhill skiing. Guided snowmobiles are being offered the public for Friday night as well as day snowmobiles for Saturday and Sunday. Cross Country Skiing Races, Downhill Skiing Races, Exhibitions, Arts & Crafts Shows, Student Window Art Painting, Ice Sculptures, Figure Skating Exhibitions and of course the 50th Annual Miss Grayling Winter Sports Pageant.

The 50th Annual Winter Sports Festival - the Grand-Daddy of all festivals for the Mid-West."

Sportsmen, Take Notice!

There will be a special Public Meeting at the Grayling Sportsmen's Club on Wednesday, January 29th, 1975 to hear the pros and cons of the proposed removal of the U.S. 27 dam and the old electric power dam on the upper section of the AuSable River. All the public is welcome. This affects your community.

New Program Needs Volunteers

Volunteers are needed for a Friendly Visiting Program for Crawford County, being organized under the direction of Crawford County Commission on Aging. Friendly Visitors are volunteers who agree to visit one elderly friend once a week and to report monthly to the staff of Commission on Aging at the Senior Citizens Center, 308 Lawndale Drive, Grayling.

The main purpose of the Friendly Visiting Program is to provide moral support for the elderly person who is lonely and perhaps disabled. A visitor might read to a home-bound or sick person, assist them in writing letters, do occasional personal shopping, if desired talk and listen to the elderly person and in other ways function in the capacity of a friendly family member. The Friendly Visitor will in no way supply professional service; the Friendly Visitor will be asked to report these problems to the staff at the Center. It is not the responsibility of the Friendly Visitor to [See New Program on page 11]

GRAYLING, MICHIGAN — THURSDAY, JANUARY 23, 1975

The Greatest Threat

"The greatest threat to a democratic government," warns prominent American businessman Donald A. Gaudion, "is not the possibility of its politicians and officials acting improperly or incompetently, but the danger of its citizens not acting at all."

If you are one who shrugs off politics as inconsequential to the serious business of daily living, think again. In the words of Mr. Gaudion, "Politics doesn't stop the day after an election. Politics is a 24-hour, 7-day-a-week, 52-week-a-year process. It never stops affecting your business. You can't afford to participate only when there is a crisis or when you seem to have the time. You've got to make time." Your involvement in the political process is a decisive factor in congressional decisions affecting your career and family. Without citizen input, there can be no legislation that truly reflects the will of the people.

There are many ways to participate, from keeping up on legislative happenings and conveying your opinions to the lawmakers to supporting the candidates or party of your choice. Remember, political participation is a unique American privilege and responsibility. Alone we cannot change the world, but when each of us becomes involved, our representative system of government can broadcast the message of freedom to all. That is what makes life worth living in these United States.

In Search Of A Killer

A killer is on the loose! It has already struck hundreds of thousands of young Americans down in their prime, and anyone between the ages of 20 and 40 is a potential victim of the disease known as multiple sclerosis (MS).

Described as one of the greatest national health problems receiving insufficient attention, MS attacks the central nervous system. Patches of the nerves' myelin sheathing are destroyed and replaced by scar tissue that interrupts and distorts the stream of nerve impulses. Crippling paralysis, loss of balance, blurred vision and other disorders accompany this neurological disease, which ultimately ends in death. For the last 28 years, the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, a voluntary health organization, has tried to help by channeling money into research, patient services and joint programs with local hospitals.

The solution will not come overnight; but, with public support and cooperation, the mystery of multiple sclerosis can yet be solved.

Con Gas To Make Refunds

Michigan Consolidated Gas Company today announced it has begun making refunds totaling $8,200,000 to its more than one million customers across the state.

The refunds will appear as credits on the bills of Michigan Consolidated's customers during the months of January, February and May.

Refunds to the average residential heating customer will total about $3.30.

The rebates are being made as a result of Federal Power Commission rulings requiring the Company's three major pipeline suppliers to reduce their rates and refund to Michigan Consolidated monies paid for gas deliveries made between January, 1971 and September, 1974. The refunds include the actual money paid under rates which were placed in effect pending a final decision by the FPC, plus the interest collected from the pipeline on the funds.

The refunds are being made under procedures established by the Michigan Public Service Commission to insure that the excess revenue collected by the pipelines is returned to gas consumers.

THE BIBLE SPEAKS

From Calvary Baptist Church

MORALITY IN A NUTSHELL
Why is there so much confusion concerning what is right and wrong in the world today? Why are we seeing a rejection of basic moral standards which are essential to social harmony? There are at least four basic approaches to ethics being promoted today.

First, there is nothing either right or wrong but circumstances make it so. This is the appeal of situational ethics which exalts circumstances above all other factors in determining morality. For example, those who promote situational ethics would say stealing, lying and adultery are good in some situations and they are bad in others. They would say none of these acts are bad in themselves.

Second, there is nothing either right or wrong but human thinking makes it so. This is the appeal of humanism which exalts the thinking of man above all other factors. This is the philosophy which says, "Do your own thing." Society must yield to the individual the authority to determine what he feels is right and wrong in his own life. Personal opinions and liberty are to be exalted above all other factors determining right and wrong.

Third, there is nothing either right or wrong but government makes it so. This is the appeal of communist influence throughout the world. To millions of people around the world today the state alone has the ability and authority to determine right from wrong. Anything which is against the state or contrary to the beliefs of the state is wrong. Anything which the state teaches or supports is right.

Fourth, there is nothing either right or wrong which is contrary to the clear teaching of the Bible. This is the appeal of divine revelation. This is the God of the universe giving His creatures the moral laws He has established for their own good and His glory. Just as the natural laws of the universe must be observed to assure the physical well being of mankind, so also the moral laws of God must be observed to assure the intellectual, emotional and spiritual well being of mankind.

When man rejects the perfect moral standards of God, he must turn to circumstances and human opinion for moral guidance. The course will remain downward until man either returns to God or comes under the force of a totalitarian government. We will either willfully respect the laws of God or forcefully respect the laws of government. No society will grow and develop under lawlessness or anarchy. As a nation we are already beginning to pay the price for our folly. Only a return to Bible Christianity can save our nation from moral bankruptcy and spare us from totalitarianism.

To All Natural Gas Customers of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company

Notice of Hearing

The Michigan Public Service Commission (Commission) in its Opinion and Order dated November 19, 1974 in Case No. U-4701 initiated proceedings on the design of the rate structures of gas utilities within the State of Michigan and other mechanisms to encourage the conservation of natural gas and to assist in increasing the possibility of adequate future supplies of natural gas. The initial hearing in these matters is scheduled to commence at 9:30 a.m. on February 7, 1975 in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan. The hearing shall continue thereafter on such dates as a presiding officer may set until the matters have been fully heard.

Any interested parties may attend the hearing and participate, subject to the provisions of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Any party seeking to intervene in accordance with Rule 11 of the Commission's Rules shall file with the Commission, at least 5 days prior to the initial hearing of February 7, 1975, an original and 2 copies of the petition to intervene, together with proof of service upon their serving gas utility.

The proceedings initiated by the Commission will focus on two basic issues:

(1) Any adjustments in the rate structure for gas service of gas utilities within the State of Michigan that would be appropriate for the promotion of the conservation of gas; and

(2) Any other mechanisms appropriate for encouraging the conservation of gas.

The Commission emphasized that it had formed no firm findings or conclusions relative to the issues raised therein. However, in order to facilitate the exploration of such issues, the Commission attached to the Opinion and Order several proposals upon which the Commission solicited evidence and other comments.

The proposals set forth in the Opinion and Order are divided into four parts:

Part I would direct, among other things, that gas utilities in the State of Michigan undertake a program of advertising and promotion to encourage the conservation of natural gas and establish a program to identify customers using disproportionate amounts of natural gas for space heating. Gas utilities would also be required to establish a residential inspection program to implement the "Discounted Residential Insulation Rate" provided for in Part II of the proposals.

Part II would establish a rate structure designed to reward residential customers who adequately insulate their homes. Four Alternatives are set forth which could implement such a rate structure. Under each alternative, residential gas customers having ceiling insulation adequate to meet the R-19 standard as set forth in the Federal Housing Administration (FHA) Minimum Property Standards for Single Dwelling Units, paragraph 607-3, effective August 1, 1974, and residential customers who rent their dwellings and those whose living units are such that they are physically unable to install ceiling insulation that meets the above R-19 standard would be entitled to a "Discounted Residential Insulation Rate" (Discounted Rate) for natural gas service.

When is a bargain a poor buy? Marketing officials of the Michigan Department of Agriculture say cost per pound or ounce is not the only factor to consider in determining whether you get your money's worth in food. Next time you're at the supermarket, take a close look at the food labels before you buy.

The four items required for all food labels on containers are name of product, net content, name and address of manufacturer or distributor. Most food labels also require listing of ingredients, and they must be listed in descending order of predominance, according to the MDA Marketing officials. Thus the ingredient listed first is the one most prominent in the food.

On cuts of meat and meat products, many meat retailers are using a standardized system of labeling. Each meat package contains a three-part description indicating kind of meat, primal cut (such as loin, rib or chuck), and recommended retail name. These items, along with the amount of waste, such as skin, fat or bone, are key factors in deciding which is the better buy.

In addition, a new open dating regulation recently adopted by USDA will inform you for the first time about the freshness of the meat or poultry you are buying. The calendar date stamped on the package will indicate packing date; last date product should be sold or final date product should be used.

By knowing the freshness of the meat or poultry product, you can decide which can be stored safely for the longest period in your refrigerator.

Frederic News

by Arlein Kesby

We would like to congratulate Mr. Elmer Haggadone, who celebrated his birthday on Saturday, January 18, by having all his children home. Those present were Elmer Haggadone, Jr. from California, Mr. and Mrs. Lavern Haggadone of Holly, Mrs. Elly Toltingham and family of Dayton Plains and Mrs. Val Lottingham of Ortonville.

The community would like to extend its condolences to the family of Frank Decker.

First Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Frederic wishes to take this opportunity to once again thank the Crawford County Avalanche for making this space available for our church news. Sometimes like today it is difficult to know just what to write. The rush of the Holidays is over and most of us have settled down to what is generally called "routine." However, we are convinced that the minister of any church is never "routine." The Bible, which is the work of God, is always new, always fresh and always has the answers to life's problems. Again, we extend a hearty welcome to each one to worship with us.

Bits O' Tal

by Fay Bozey

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Crosby attended the funeral in Saginaw of their nephew, Darold Schlueter.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Maurer returned from a month's vacation in California. First they flew to San Francisco to visit Bernard's brother, Ed, for a few days. Then they boarded the Amtrak train for Los Angeles where their son, Tony, and wife, Marilyn, picked them up. Their son, Louie, came next day for a visit and stayed until after New Years. They all enjoyed the Holidays together. After New Years they visited the school (Chalsworth High) where Tony teaches and Monroe Nursery where Louie works. Bernard also enjoyed going deep sea fishing with his sons. The Maurers also took a two day trip to Baja, Mexico, which was interesting. They returned by plane to Detroit, where their son Terry and family picked them up and stayed with them a few days before returning home.

Guy Ashton is a patient in Saginaw General Hospital. His Room number is 270. We are sure he would enjoy hearing from his friends.

The Crawford County Board of Commissioners are asking for bids on a one-half ton, 6 cylinder truck with standard transmission and heater, to be used by the county animal control officer.

"Main Stream Musing"

By Jayne Seidel

On Doin' Without

This whole thing, the energy-inflation crisis, can be met and conquered. All we have to do is remember our Yankee forefathers (and, let's not forget, our fore-MOTHERS), who lived by this creed: "Use it up, wear it out, make do, or do without."

When I was a child, there was a lady on our block known as the Stocking Lady. All the women in the neighborhood took their nylon socks with runs in them to her, and through some miracle of skill, the Stocking Lady made them look like new again, for a nickel apiece.

Since almost every woman in the world "now wears panty hose, which can be worn under slacks until they are practically in shreds, I guess a Stocking Lady would have to die.

Maybe what we need is a Sweeper Bag Lady. We could take our full sweater bags to her - you know, those nasty little disposable ones that we keep running out of and having to make special trips to town for. She would carefully remove the contents and return the bags to us for re-use. With the materials she salvaged from the bags, the Sweeper Bag Lady could develop a sideline of stuffing cat-ee cushions. Think of it - a recyclin' dream!

Maybe doing without meat will be a nice touch. We could all re-read "A Tree Grows in Brooklyn" for starters. There was a wonderful-sounding recipe in it for a meatless meat loaf made with stale bread and catsup. I also heartily predic:

that we will start tossing cholesterol charts to the winds, and eat lots more eggs. After all, left to themselves, sooner or later, they WOULD have been meat.

And how about that suggestion the utility companies keep making for saving on fuel? "Dial down," they suggest, one degree per day. Well, talk about economizing! I know a guy who dialed down last winter, one degree each day for two months. He not only saved 60% on his home heating costs, but I understand his heirs got a nice refund from Freeze - Your Corpse, Inc.

Oh, I'm not saying it will be easy; but I guess, if science can't save us, that good old Yankee ingenuity will.....

Jack Pine's Stump

I'm in a rotten, lousy, no-good mood, due I assume to something called the Winter Blues - an expression I heard many years ago in Grayling from a woman who now spends her winters in Florida. Of course my mood could also be explained by the fact that I have something called a cracked rib, which I managed to acquire a week ago one bright, sunny, slippery morning. And the damn thing still hurts - especially when I try to cough. And that's about all I can do right now is just try. A good, real, racking gut-heaving cough would just plain kill me, but I sure would like to enjoy one. For a guy who smokes as much as I do, not being able to cough is a real sacrifice. So I have learned the art of coughing "gently," which isn't at all productive, but at least gives me some feeling of accomplishment. In the meantime, of course, I am slowly drowning in my own sputum. There's enough of those around as it is.

Oh, well, since I am in this mood, I might as well write about my favorite "whipping boy" - Trout Unlimited, the Michigan Council. A few days ago my comments about snowmobilers prompted a comment from a friend who said that I was acting about snowmobiles like TU acts about canoeists, bait fishermen and most others who don't subscribe to the narrow TU way of looking at our streams. This comment bothered my ulcer immediately and even changed my complexion.

—JP-

Trout Unlimited, Michigan Council, (to get back to my Happy Hobby of Harassing the Hatchets), is bound and determined that the Mill Pond dam is going to be removed and have contrived some pretty clever ways of seeing that such is done. All I have heard is rumors, and as soon as I can confirm something, you'll be hearing from me again, and again, and again until this foolishness is stopped, or money and political power prevails.

—JP-

Saturday night I sat watching TV and trying to cough. One of the shows I watched was Lawrence Welk. He's not my favorite, but he's not that bad either. Towards the end, he announced that some gal was going to sing "God Bless America." Sure enough, some gal did, but she was a scrawny little runt compared to Kate Smith, who made the song famous. That song takes lungs, and Kate sure had 'em. The Lawrence Welk girl just looked beautiful, in perfect proportion, with a commendable voice, but she was no Kate Smith. Once, many long years ago, when I worked in radio in Hollywood, the company I worked for produced a show in which Kate appeared and sang that song. I sat in the studio control room coming un-glued with every eight bars until I finally dissolved into an embarrassing puddle of tears. Of the eight of us there, five more did just the same thing, and the others hid their faces, their leaking wetness probably smearing up the control room console.

—JP-

One last comment: The Booster Club is having another one of its fabulous dinners on Wednesday the 29th, just a week away. This time it's spaghetti with a very special sauce. Place: The Red Barn. Time: 4:30 until eight. Price: adults $2.75, children $1.50. It's a good deal. BE THERE! That's really a sincere request from spaghetti-hungry...

Jim Fitzgerald

Gee, I'm sorry, Colonel

Relax, folks. Although retired, Colonel Norman Bedell is still protecting you from jerks like me.

From his home in Kettering, Ohio, the colonel has written a passionate plea to preserve the ponderous profundity of the Pentagon ("Wipe that smile off your face, soldier"). He has strongly urged that I "publicly apologize for the biased, slanderous and erroneous statements" I made in a recent column concerning General George Brown, the bigot who is chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

You'll remember that Gen Brown made front pages when he made a speech blaming troubles in the mid-east on rich Jews who own all the banks and newspapers in the United States.

Under pressure from President Ford, who threatened to fire his valet, the general subsequently apologized for his stupid prejudices. And I subsequently wrote a column explaining the most important function of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

It was a timely explanation, because that was the week a soldier was sentenced to the stockade for having long hair. I revealed for the first time that the chiefs of the Navy, Army, Marine Corps and Air Force are called the Joint Chiefs because it is their tremendous responsibility to administer the joint test to all uncommissioned members of the military. The test is that no lock of an enlisted man's hair can be longer than the 1st joint of the middle finger of a Chief of Staff.

Col Bedell is a former member of the Joint Staff and he took exception to my remarks.

"Even a minimum of research would have revealed that Gen Brown has far more important things to do than worry about the length of hair on a soldier, sailor, airman or marine," Col Bedell wrote.

Honest, he really wrote that in a letter to an editor. This nation can't really afford to allow such brilliant officers to retire. They should be required to stay on duty until they are 100 years old, or until the crease disappears from their tailored fatigue uniforms, whichever comes first.

Col Bedell conceded that Gen Brown's speech on Jews was "ill-advised" but he chastised me for failing "to make it clear that Gen Brown's statement on Jewish influence was off the record."

I'm sorry. Gen Brown was talking to Duke University law students. He didn't intend for anyone else to learn that this nation's top military officer is a biased jackass. If he wanted the entire world to know, he would include kike jokes in his Morning Reports.

I hope that clears that up.

Col Bedell was also upset by my admission that I once walked out on a speech by the chairman of the Joint Chiefs. "How can Mr Fitzgerald learn anything about current military policy if he leaves the room where the nation's top military officer is going to speak?" he asked.

The Pentagon bombed Cambodia for a year and didn't even tell the Secretary of the Air Force about it. Gen Brown wouldn't tell me it was Tuesday even if I could prove I already knew yesterday was Monday.

But don't get me wrong. I was flattered to hear from a former Joint Chief. And it was reassuring to learn that, although retired, Col Bedell is still keeping his finger in things.

Only up to the first joint, of course.

Vietnam Veteran Era Bonus Status Report

Recently designated the state agency to administer the newly enacted Michigan Vietnam Veteran Era Bonus, the Department of Military Affairs is engaged in intensive preparations and coordination with other State of Michigan Departments to insure equitable and timely payment to Michigan veterans and their beneficiaries. The administrative framework and procedures are being finalized. Logistical considerations in regard to office space, equipment, and supplies are nearly completed.

Captain Michael J. Rice has been appointed director of the newly created Vietnam Veteran Era Bonus Section. Headquartered in Lansing, the Bonus Section, part of the Office of the Adjutant General, will be staffed through the Michigan Department of Civil Service.

Application forms are expected to be available for wide distribution throughout the State by the end of January 1975. Points of distribution will be heavily publicized and easily accessible to veterans and beneficiaries. Procedures are established to handle requests for applications from eligible out-of-state claimants who may have subsequently left the State or Michigan servicemen still on active duty. Requests from out-of-state claimants should be directed to the Vietnam Veteran Era Bonus Section, P.O. Box 1500, Lansing, Michigan 48904.

The Vietnam Bonus Section expects to be adequately staffed to initiate operations by early February 1975. It will take approximately four to five weeks after the Section begins processing a given claim before the eligible veteran can expect to receive payment, providing the claim is valid and no irregularities precipitate further investigation. The Bonus Section expects to receive an overwhelming number of applications from claimants during the early months of operation. Consequently, the daily input of applications will grossly exceed the Section's ability to initiate immediate (Same Day) claim processing for several months. Incoming applications will be stored in such a manner that subsequent handling will be predicated on the application's arrival date so that claim processing will follow a "first-in-first-out" work flow. Veterans and beneficiaries will receive a postcard from the Bonus Section at the time their applications are received. In addition to acknowledging the receipt, the postcard will show the applicant's assigned claim number for future reference if needed.

To be eligible, the veteran must have been a resident of Michigan for at least six months before entering active military service and must have been on active duty 180 days or more during the period from January 1, 1961 to September 1, 1973. Combat veterans are entitled to receive a $600 cash bonus, and are defined as a serviceman or woman eligible to wear the Vietnam Service Medal or the Armed Forces Expeditionary Medal. Those whose active duty service did not entitle them to wear the aforementioned medals are entitled to draw a bonus of $15 for each month of service, up to a maximum of $450. Beneficiaries of veterans who died of service connected causes would be eligible for the same cash payments.

8th GRADE CRAFTS CLASS—Kim Stephan, (left) and Ivah Bendly, are shown with the coffee tables they made in eighth grade crafts class, under the direction of Arthur Thayer. These classes meet in the school shop but the students are not limited to wood-working projects. Some members of the all-girl classes have made candles, soap-carvings, knitting, needlework, paintings, Christmas tree decorations, nick-nacks, and other wood projects besides the tables.

Making Colds Uncommon

The common cold, a mid-winter menace, is not a single disease that can be tracked down and wiped out. Colds are caused by viruses, which are slippery characters with a genius for surviving. Antimicrobial drugs that fight off some infections don't affect most viruses. Cold vaccines only work against specific, targeted types: untargeted viruses pop up like ants at a picnic.

But there is hope on the cold research horizon. Researchers are exploring the way our bodies naturally try to protect themselves against viruses and other infectors.

In a research study sponsored by the American Thoracic Society, the medical section of the American Lung Association, Dr. J.E. Rodriguez of the University of Iowa is attempting to determine just how interferon, an injection - fighting antibody, functions. He wants to find out if the chemical can be spotted in people who have respiratory infections. He wants to discover whether different levels of interferon are related to different virus attackers. And he hopes to see if different levels have any effect on how long an infection lasts.

Findings from studies such as this may offer a new line of attack against viruses.

To join the fight against cold viruses and lung diseases, answer the traditional Christmas Seal letter from the Michigan Lung Association. It's a matter of life and breath.

Shoppers spend more money but buy less

A late buying surge by Christmas shoppers averted what had started out to be a pretty dismal sales month in December, according to a survey of the nation's largest retail stores.

Generally speaking, sales in December of 1974 ended up ahead of sales for the same month a year ago; but the sales increases did not keep pace with the rush of inflation.

This indicates that unit sales were lower than a year ago; in other words, shoppers were spending more, but buying less.

"Consumers appeared to be extremely price-conscious and practical in their Christmas buying," according to one official of the Dayton Hudson chain.

With what it termed a "modest" sales gain of 13.5 percent for December, Kresge credited "conservative ordering and tight inventory controls" with permitting a satisfactory cleanup of seasonal merchandise.

Keeping in mind that inflation accounts for an estimated 9 to 12 percent increase in sales volume, here's how sales of some of the top retailers fared nationally:

—Sears up 6 percent in December, 7 percent for the year.

—Penney up 8 percent for December, 11 percent for the year.

—Kresge (K-Marts and other stores) up 13.5 percent for December, 20 percent for the year.

—Woolworth (Woolco and other stores) up 11 percent for the month, 12 percent for the year.

—Montgomery Ward up 11 percent for the month, 13 percent for the year.

—Dayton Hudson up 7 percent for December, 8 percent for the year; but excluding the contribution from new stores opened during the last year, December sales were up only 2.3 percent and 3.3 percent for the year.

What all this means, it seems to me, is that consumers are spending a bit more cautiously than in former years, and that spendable income may be a bit more difficult to come up with.

That shoppers these days generally buy less while spending more could be verified by most any housewife buying her weekly groceries, without the benefit of all those national statistics. A trip to the supermarket can be quite traumatic at times.

What happens in 1975 has yet to unfold, of course. The rate of inflation, we are told, has slowed down; but with unemployment reaching higher and higher levels, the amount of spendable income must certainly decrease.

All in all, it's a perplexing time—which I hereby nominate as one of the classic understatements of the year so far.

Before we leave the big retail scene, you might be interested to know how the big national merchants rank with each other.

According to the tabulations cited above, Sears is far and away the largest in the nation in annual sales (actually 48-week or 11-month sale figures are used in these tables).

Here's how they rank:

1. Sears 13.5 billion, Penney 5.87 billion, Kresge 5.21 billion, Woolworth 3.92 billion, Wards 3.43 billion, Dayton Hudson 1.36 billion.

When you fool around with sales figures like those, it's a long way from the old crossroads general store or corner dime store many of us have in mind when we talk about the retail business.

To round out this week's essay here are a couple of items of incidental intelligence:

—United States population is now 213,203,059, representing a gain of 1.6 million persons, or 0.7 percent from a year ago, according to the Census Bureau.

That's about the same rate of growth as in 1973, making the rate of increase in the last two years the lowest since the Depression of the 1930's.

The 1974 net gain was the result of about 3.2 billion births, 1.9 million deaths, and 360,000 immigrations.

Mild Winter For State Deer Herd

LANSING — Reports from Michigan's Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Peninsula indicate the state's deer herd is having an easy winter, according to Department of Natural Resources game biologists.

A winter severity index, using snow depth, temperatures and wind chill factors, shows that through December deer experienced a winter about half as harsh as last year. The 1973-74 season was considered quite mild.

Little "yarding," when deer congregate in sheltered areas such as heavy cedar swamps, is being noted.

In the Upper Peninsula, snow depths are considerably below last year and deer are reported to be ranging widely.

In the northern Lower Peninsula, DNR Wildlife Division biologists say the snow is no problem to deer, which are said to be moving freely.

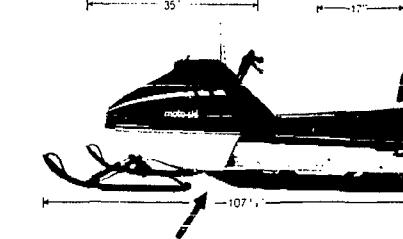

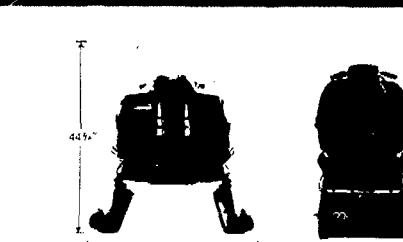

LOWER LIMB INJURIES COMMON TO SNOWMOBILERS

1,505 snowmobile accidents were reported for the 73-74 snowmobile season. Of these, the DNR reports 25.8 percent were to the lower limb and 16.5 percent were to the head, face and neck. Of the total number of accidents where a passenger was involved, 71.5 percent resulted in injury.

These safety tips from Deputy Coe of the Crawford Co. Sheriff Department may help you prevent an accident or injury while riding your snowmobile. Know your machine and area in which you are going to operate. Watch for snow covered obstacles. Keep hands and legs within the boundary of the machine. When carrying a passenger drive with extra care. Wear a helmet and eye protection.

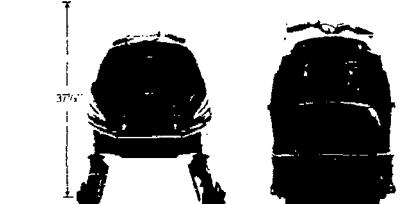

The Snowmobile Division of the Sheriff Department urges everyone to attend a safety class to learn more about safety and the law. For more information contact the Sheriff Department at 348-6341.

—Personalized counseling covers such subjects as use of leisure time, life-style adjustments, legal matters, family budgeting and second careers.

—Some firms try to ease employees into familiarity with their coming leisure time by granting extra vacation or putting the retiree on a shortened work week

Therefore, be it resolved that the Grayling Sportsman's Club go on record and use any method necessary to the preservation of said refuge which would be to leave the area in its present state.
